

Security Group

- Acts as a firewall
- Ingress rules can be added to allow traffic to specific services and ports
- Security groups are scoped to an instance level, not to a network or subnet
- You can specify ALLOW rules but you can't specify DENY rules
- You can control traffic via an IP address range (CIDR), or via security group IDs (for other AWS resources)